THE MOUNTAINS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

As a matter of interest to North Carolinians, we copy the following remarks from a letter published in the Wilmington Journal from its travelling correspondent, Dr. J. B Purcell. We do not desire to be understood as taking a part in the controversy as to which is the highest mountain and who is the true discoverer. If the statements made below are erroneous or unjust, our columns are open to their refutation.—Dr. Purcell writes:

I would say a few words relative to the mountains in which Buncombe is embosomed. No one can approach Asheville without being struck with the awful sublimity of those dark ranges that tower from two thousand to six thousand feet into mid heavens. Gurot's measurement of these mountains will be my chief guide.—He, it is stated, had experience enough in ascertaining the elevations of the most remarkable mounts in this country. After visiting scientifically the White and the Green mountains of New England, the Adirondacks in the State of New York, he turned his attention to "the beautiful mountain region of North Carolina, which he said to possess the most elevated peaks of the whole Appalachian Range." He began his investigations in the Black mountains, July, 1856 Nothing had up to that time been published, so far as he knew, but Dr. E. Mitchell's account, and the partial measurement of Hon. T. L. Clingman. The latter gave the first accurate and graphic description of the Black mountain. He measured the Roan, the Grandfather mountains, the Balsam ranges, and the Great Smoky Mountains. Dr. Mitchell always considered the mount south of the Northern Peak the highest. The end of true science is to establish true facts. This is a true fact. The honor of discovering the highest peak belongs, therefore, to Hon. T. L. Clingman. Dr. Mitchell was the pioneer in this matter of scientific investigation, and that, considered with his sad end, would be sufficient to immortalize him in the scientific world. On this ground his name has been given to the highest peak. Gurnot says that, to the highest point in the group of the Great Smoky Mountains, he heard in the valley of the Tuckasegee and Oconaluftee but one name applied —W. Clingman. I have heard considerable talk about this matter among gentlemen in Wilmington. All granted the honor to Dr. Mitchell. All right. Let the truth be granted to science.

In the valley of the Swananoa the greatest altitude is called the "Upper Mountain House"—6246 feet. In the Blue Ridge Range the "High Pinacle of Blue Ridge" is 5701 feet. The "Grey Beard" is 5448 feet. In the Craggy chain the "Big Craggy" is 6090 feet. In the Black Mountain main chain "Mount Mitchell" is 6382 feet; "Mount Gibbs" 6591 feet; BLACK DOME" 6707 feet. This is the peak about which the controversy is—Mt. Clingman, or Mt. Mitchell. It is now known as Mt. Mitchell. In the Northwestern chain "Blackstocks Knob" is 6380 feet. The people around here are more interested in the Black Mountain, and the Great Smoky Range, as no doubt they are on the sea-board.

In relation to Mount Mitchell, Gurzot states "that if the honored name of Dr. Mitchell is taken from Mt. Mitchell and transferred to the highest peak, it should not be on the ground that he first made known its true elevation." He never confessed that he did. The reader will observe that "Mount Mitchell" proper is 125 feet lower than the disputed mount, or the "Black Dome."

I would not have gone into this statement, but thought it might be of interest to many who have not the time to make such an investigation for themselves.

Overlooking Asheville is a mount bearing the euphonious and significant cognomen of "Beancatcher." It is about a mile from the Court House, and is pretty steep and rugged. When once there you have a good view of a circle of exquisite scenery. The ides reminds me of "Sunset hill." There it is level with the Cape Fear, lazily rolling downward to the sea, and beyond the towering dark stripped pines. Here we glance down upon rich valleys, and windings, green pastures and fertile laughing coves. Now and then a glimpse may be caught of the shining Swananoa. Warm springs are near the town, and Deaver's mineral springs are not very far, and are somewhat more famous than those in the vicinity of the "city of oaks." Rev. Mr. Dixon came here to die of consumption. He did not expect to live three months. He lived fifteen years, and then did not die of the disease. There is nothing mephitic in the land. No hectic flush. No hollow eye. No "consumptive care." Nothing there is but "sweetness in the Mountain air."

Pisgah is about twenty miles off. It is 5,737 feet high. Why is it called Pisgah? Does it resemble that sacred mount on which Moses died, and from whose summit he saw the promised land? I hope to visit it next summer.

MORE INDIAN TROUBLES—REPORTED FIGHTING AND INSUBORDINATION.

CHICAGO, May 11.—The following was received at Gen. Sheridan's headquarters to-day: Capt. E. W. Cliffe, of the 13th infantry, gives a report dated Fort Ellis, Montana, April 10th, of a fight which took place on the 6th instant on the north fork of Sixteen Mile Creek, near the headwaters of Muscle Shell river, between a detatchment of soldiers and citizens and a hostile land of Indians, thirteen in number. The casualties were: Indians, nine killed and wounded; of the detatchment, one soldier killed and two wounded, and two citizens wounded.

A dispatch to Gen. Sheridan from Gen. Schofield, at Fort Leavenworth, May 10th, says Gen. Miles telegraphed that the Indian prisoners at Fort Hayes made an attempt to over power the guards and escape, mortally wounding the sergeant. The guards fired upon them, killing two, including Big Head, and wounding a third.

Gen. Grant returned, out of a salary of $18,000, perquisites, gifts, house rents, and what not, an income of only $566 last year. He whittles down his income as he did his grades, making as little as possible out of both.

SECRET LEAGUES—SURE DESTRUCTION.

History is full of lessons which go to teach, that secret Leagues and Republican Government cannot long exist together—the Leagues are sure to swallow the Constitution, and defy the laws, whilst liberty and property are rendered insecure, then assailed, then destroyed.

The Leagues have sought to produce strife between the labourer and the land owner, they have made the ignorant black man believe that the League or the government would provide for and even educate his children, the labor of the country has been encouraged to move and settle in towns and villages where they could be conveniently summoned for their secret meetings.

We can name thirty farmers who use to butcher annually 150 hogs, since 1865 they have not been able to keep a hog upon the plantation.

In Perquimans last fall, on one of the largest and most valuable farms of that county, we saw every hog on the plantation in the pen, to be made pork of. There was not a sow left out for the next year, as sixty hogs had been stolen in as many days. In Granville a thrifty farmer informed us he usually killed 150 hogs, last year he killed 243 shoats only, not a hog among them. His hogs had been stolen by League men who would not work, and had to steal. The same farmer informed us his sheep had been stolen and the number reduced from one hundred to eleven.

A gentleman of Granville informed us that, in his own immediate neighborhood, more than 50,000 dollars of property had been burnt by the incendiary—consisting of mills, granaries, tobacco barns, &c.

In Orange the work of the incendiary has not been so great, but sheep and hogs will disappear not only from the county but from the State, if the Leagues are not better instructed and their members put to work.

The intelligent Leaguers, such as the Governor, Tourgee, Starbuck and Billy Henderson, rely upon the Government for their support. Tourgee's salary, $2 500 as Judge, and $2,500 as Code Commissioner, ought to give him a comfortable support, while the ignorant leaguers who elect him to office can supply themselves at night so long as the honest and industrious have sheep and hogs in the range. It will, in this connection, be remembered, that Judge Reade, in that infamous Legislative Address, signed by 88 members of the Legislature, said, that the negro would not be hungry so long as there were cattle on the hills, or hogs in the range.

"Honest" John Ragland, member from Granville, said and now says, "the men who signed that address should be hung with a grape vine untrimmed."

Judge Gilliam soon after the close of the war, riding the Orange Circuit, upon conviction, sentenced eleven of the Leaguers to punishment at the whipping post. This checked them in Orange for awhile, but when the League Judges came, then came increased larceny with lighter punishment.

When Wm. Smith, the President of the N. C. Railroad, visited in person the jails of Guilford and Alamance on the eve of the last election, and stood bail for all the convicted Leaguers and released them, then came success to Holden and the party, and a good time for the Leaguers, but death and destruction to hogs, sheep and poultry.

Solomon Craig an active man of the Leagues for Orange, in his zeal for League meetings, neglected his work, had nothing to eat, was forced to steal.

The father of the Hillsboro bar hearing that Solomon had stolen from his plantation on divers occasions, told him if he did not give his word and honor that he would never steal from him again, he would have him prosecuted for stealing his plough and his turnips. Solomon said, "Here's my hand on that, Mars John; I will never steal from you again." When we were cursed with League Judges, they dealt lightly with League rogues, and so lightly that honest men now begin to feel that there is no law to protect them in the enjoyment of their property. Whoever heard of a rogue being expelled from the League? Solomon Craig is as welcome in the League as an honest man.

The legislation of the State is first passed upon in secret League or caucus meetings of members of the Legislature, all the important moves and measures of the Legislature are passed upon in secret night meetings, and then submitted to the action of the Legislature for its approval and ratification.

The Governor who is the Grand President of all the Leagues, tramples on the Constitution and defies the Court and laws. The Leagues are to day stronger than the Constitution and the laws.

REPORT OF STATE GEOLOGIST.—We have received a copy of Prof. Washington C. Kerr's "Report of the Progress of the Geological Survey of North Carolina," but as we have not read it we cannot give any opinion as to its general merits. We have known Prof. K. for twenty years and more, and have long had a high respect for his ability and attainments. How useful these surveys are, and how thoroughly they have been prosecuted, we can only judge from reading the report and witnessing the results.

A GOOD OMEN.

The other day we said that we liked to praise Grant. And so we do. We would rather say kind than harsh things of any being. We like, also, to be truthful. We mean to praise our President whenever we can do so with a proper regard for what we hold to be truth. We praised him not many days since, and we mean to praise him again. Whilst we do not regard him, in any sense, as a great man, we are not prepared to declare that he is a bad man in the ordinarily received sense of that term. He is, doubtlessly, an ungodly man, but we hope not a vicious, mean, revengeful one.—But to our praise.

He behaved well towards the great Lee at Appomattox Court House. We will not forget Grant's bearing then in that hour of his triumph, and in that hour of our young nations defeat, when every Confederate heart was woe stricken and a huge pall of blackness wrapt the land of our love.—Grant has again behaved well. But a week ago he invited our noblest type of Southern manhood, the great Captain against whom he battled for nearly one year, when their respective armies stood up face to face, looking each other defiantly in the eye,—a week ago he invited our Lee to call upon him, the President of a great nation. Our readers have already been informed of the meeting and of its character; that it was formal and civil, without any intended special political significance. But we like the whole manner of the transaction—the invitation, its prompt acceptance, and the general character of the interview.

It has some political significance withal. It means something. What is it? We believe it was meant by the President to indicate to the people of the South that he was not their enemy, and that, however, betrayed by inexperience, incapacity or evil minded advisers, he was not to be made a party to outrage and cruelty against them, that he was pacifically inclined, and to show it, he would invite to an interview in the Preidential mansion the most endeared man to the Southern heart, even him who defied, successfully, for nearly four years, the combined forces of the North, and had only been vanquished when Europe had been scoured and the whole North had been drained of its available fighting material. This interview, as we interpret it, showed that with all of Grant's weaknesses, and they are many and great, he had not yet yielded to that Radical violence that would apply fire and sword to a peo-already reised, but would rather by a hearty recognition socially, of his great antagonist, manifest his kind feelings not only for Gen. Lee, but, through him, for Virginia and the South.

We hope in this view of the matter we are not mistaken, and we shall be glad to see that the President justifies such an opinion by his subsequent acts towards our Southern people.

It invariably affords us satisfaction and pleasure when we find in a Northern paper fraternal, liberal, or just views concerning us. We have been so much gratified at the following magnanimous paragraphs, which show an intelligent insight in regard to the whole matter, that we cannot refuse to reproduce them in the present connection.—Says the Chicago Times:

"The treatment of General Lee, both in public and in private, has been an encouraging instance of true American patriotism. When the fanatics of another country would have applauded the heroism they would have found in John Wilkes Booth, the Americans were unanimous in their condemnation of it. When the fanatics of royalty or anarchy would have refused fellowship to Lee, whom they would have regarded as the vilest traitors, the Americans can find a sympathy for a man who followed the cause of his people, and commanded the admiration of the world by his steadfastness, his genius, his fortitude, and his justice.

If the radical press, and the radical politicians of this country had exerted all the influence which they think to find embodied in their political success, even the modesty, the self respect and the province of usefulness which Lee has adopted since the failure of his cause could not have secured for him the generous forgiveness that has everywhere been manifested. He would have been written down a traitor in the blackest letters of history, and every disgrace and shame would have been heaped upon him while living. As it is, the principle which actuated this man in his opposition to the established government is one which is understood and properly appreciated by the American people, who do not hesitate, on account of it, to recognize the admirable character and ability of the rebel leader. Lee will be considered in history as one of the developers of the American nation, and he will occupy, as he does now, quite a different position from that of Jeff. Davis, or Breckenridge, or almost any other individual who was identified with the war against the Union."

TURNING AN HONEST PENNY.

Downing, of the Penitentiary swindle, though a man of more than three score and ten, is a moving carpet bagger. On Friday he left New York and reached the city Saturday. On Monday he left, and reached New York Tuesday afternoon. Now this is rapid and healthy motion for an old man. When the Penitentiary swindle was about to be exposed, Downing rose in the House and said he would take the 8,000 acres at the price the State paid for it. He wanted it on speculation; it was worth the money paid for it, and he was buying it only to sell again. Downing pays no tax in North Carolina, except on a gold watch.

The sale of the public lands in Hyde has not been heard from since the Legislature headed off its fraud by requiring the sale to be approved by the General Assembly. It may be this old penny turner is arranging the sale of our public lands.

There is a secret in his mission which, perhaps, the Governor might explain. It is said by some that the Governor will be the richest man in the State at the close of his term.

PERSIA.—London, May 12.—News has been received from Teheran of a desperate conflict in the streets of the Persian capital between two religious sects. Both sides were armed. It is reported that 800 men were killed. Troops were called out and dispersed the combatants.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT CUBA.

As the papers every day have something to say about this island, and as recently a fresh interest has been given to the subject of Cuban success, and Cuban sympathy and Cuban recognition and all that, it may be a matter of interest to lay before the reader a few facts cut from the columns of the New York Evening Express. That sterling journal says:

"Cuba has an area of 47 287 square miles, and is nearly as large as England. With soil of amazing profiiteness, it could support 20,000,000 of inhabitants. The present population is at 1,400,000 of whom 1,000 000 are native Cubans, white or colored. Of the remaining 400,000, there may be 125 000 Spaniards, troops, employes of the Government, adventurers, &c; the balance are Africans. A few thousand residents are U. S. citizens, or from European States. Of the inhabitants of Cuba there are not then 200,000 persons who are either friendly or indifferent to the Spanish rule. The Island now exports more wealth than any other equal area of territory on the globe."

This island then presents some real attractions, and if united to our already expanded and expanding Empire (vide the Imperialist,) would constitute an important part of the whole. Of course as it is of so much unquestioned value, a bold stroke of policy that will place this brilliant jewel of the sea in the crown of our present Ruler, or of his Imperialistic successor, if such is to be, will make the political fortune of its author. If Seward remained in office, we might expect him by some State-craft to wrest this glittering prise from the somewhat relaxed hand of Spanish rule, and that too without involving the United States in serious troubles; but with a man as Secretary of State, like Mr. Fish, whose temper of mind is conservative and who is not presumed to be an adept in diplomatic finesse and red-tape circumlocutions, we may well conclude that to attempt to appropriate this precious diamond in the crown jewels of Spain, will provoke hostilities and bring on possibly a foreign war.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM BILLY BARLOW.

CHAPPLE HILL.

MISTER TURNER:—I was a telling you, in my last letter, how I jined collidge.—Well, the kurnel tuk me just to Mr. Pool. Says the Kurnel, "Mister Pool, I hev the onnor to introjuice my frend Mr. Barlow, who wants to jine collidge," says Mister Pool, says he, "Ime glad to see you Mister Barlow; Ime glad you are a turnin ov yore attenshun to the hewmannyties." Says I "Mister Pool, if you think Ive hear to hev or chop either, you are outer it. Ive cum hear to go to collidge an larn genus an be a lawyer. Says he "whar was you prepard for collidge?" "I dont adzactly understand you," says I, when I left home I diddent think of such a thing, but I been prepared for it mostly by the Kurnell here, sence I cum to Chapple Hill to avoid the turrible consequences of that foolish law the legislater made agin the Kew klux." O, says he "weave fixed that law, you needenter be afeard. 'Kurnel, will you be so good as to take Mister Barlow to perfessor Patrick to be egtamernated on latten?"

As we was a goin to Perfesser Patricks, says I, "Kurnel, Mister Pool is a mity perlite, nice man, I dont feel skeered ov him nary bit." Says he, "thar aint no harm in Mister Patrick neather; he's just a good common feller none ov yer bifercating sockdolligers." Well, when we got to his house he axed us to walk in and we dun so; he axed us to set down an we sot. Then I tole my bisness and he axed me how long I had studded latten. I tole him I had never studded it much but I aimed to make it git furder when I jined collidge. "Well," says he, "how do you gungcreake the verb ets to eat?" Says I to myself, "Billy Barlow, I'll be teetotally rusbed ef he aint got you now." But af er thinkin a little says I "now do I eat a gungcreake? Why, I everlastingly chaw it up, and wash it down with cider!" Says he, "Mister Barlow you kin jine, but you will be under the necessity of makin up latten. "Well," says I, "I never undertuk to make enny thing but what I dun it; an ef I ken just see sumbodely make up a latten I can make one too an that quick."

Then I went to Perfesser Mackeever to be exzamernated in mathy maddicks an ef I had of-node what I now no, I wouldenter got into sich a box as I did. Perfesser Mackeever are a very sollum man an dignitiyfied till he is plum skeery to look at. He are sed to be a very highe-larnt man, and graduated with first mite when the robbles an ristycrats had the collidge. Says he in a sollum voice, Mister Barlow how do you ikstract the squar roots ov a quantity? dont I thought he sed how do you ikstract a quanity ov squar roots?) Billy Barlow aint easy skeered, but I tell you I was wuss skeered than Ive been sence the kew klux cum to my house that nite. Says I, "I never reed a squar root, much less ever ikstracted one. Ive dug sassafrac roots, and ive dug taters; but them's round and lengish like. Says he, "Mister B rrow," says he, "I wont be trifled with, sur!" You had better go to school to Doctor November awhile before you cum to me; you can't jine. Good mornin, sur." So I took my hat an sloped. As I was dubble quickin across the collidge yard, I met the kurnel, (he had left me at Perfesser Patricks,) a walkin with a tall good looking feller with black whiskers, an says he, "Billy this is Mister Brewer, the perfesser of Greek. He were born in grease and he is O. K. on the inaguidge." Says I "Well, I don't adzactly understand you, but I don't see what the grease has to do with it, unless it will grease his bred and greens." "But what makes you look so wild?" says the kurnel; and then I tole him what Mr. Mackreever had sed, as nigh as I could reckerlect. "That was a very good suggestion about taking lessons of Dr. November," says Mr. Brewer, "the Dr. is a larnt man and a noble old gentleman of the highest type of natur. Dont be discouraged my dear sur! You ken make up my department and the doctor ken soon prepar you in mathy matticks. I am intermately acquainted with him an visit reglar in his fambly. I'll interjuice you right off. So off we put to Dr. November's, I was sorter staggernated at first we got thar an I found Doctor November was a nigger, but Mister Brewer opened my eyes to the folly of harborin ov a dislike agin an equal feller creatur bekase he has a black skin an a loud smell. "My dear sur, says he," ef it haddenter ben fur the cullerd pusson, Ide be a suckin of codfish boues this very day instead of bein perfesser ov a great University with six students." Presently the perfesser left, an when he were gone the Doctor tole me his own history an complained powerful bekase they hadent give him no place in the University "says he I hev been eddicated by sich men as Doctor Caldwell, an Doctor Mitchell; I hev blacked boots for members ov Kongris and toted water for United States Sinniters; I hev made up beds for Governers and rung the bell to wake up presidents ov a mornin; and now they have filled up the perfesserships with a set of ignerant rammusses, that don't no the difference between slopindicular an slantindicular." But I haint time to write enny more. The bell is ringin an I must stop. Yours respect

BILLY BARLOW.

We hope Mr. Barlow will continue to inform us of his experiences and progress in educational matters.—ED. SENTINEL.

STATE NEWS.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE CAPE FEAR BANK.—The Stockholders of the Cape Fear Bank met in annual session at the Banking House of Messrs. Jas. G. Burr & Co., in this city yesterday.

Col. R. H. Cowan was called upon to preside, and Geo. R. French, Esq., and Co'. J. G. Burr to act as Secretaries.

The following amount of stock was, on investigation, found to be represented:

In person	750 shares.
By proxy	10,493 "
Total,	11,243 "

Of this amount 5 444 shares were represented by Geo. R. French, Esq., on behalf of the State.

The following Directors we appointed on behalf of the State by Mr. French, State Proxy:

S. H. Rogers, Geo. Little, T. A. Selby and Jas. Anderson.

The following gentlemen were then elected Directors by the Stockholders:

Wm. A. Wright, Geo. R. French, Z. Latimer, A. Empie, Rob't. Strange, J. H. Lindsay, J. A. Engelhard.

This constitutes the old Board, with the exception of Maj. Engelhard, who was elected in place of Mr. John Wooster, who declined a re election.

At a meeting of the Directors, held subsequently, Wm. A. Wright, Esq., was re-elected President, and Col. Jas. G. Burr, Cashier.—Wil. Journal.

The case of the State against W. B. Marsh and E. D. Hampton, charged with embezelling the funds of the bank of Lexington, was dismissed at the late term of the Davidson Court.—Western Sentinel.

KU-KLUX OUTRAGES IN DAVIDSON.—We learn that Judge Cloud has been Ku-kluxing a large number of negroes in Davidson county last week for feloniously assaulting smoke houses, corn-cribs and hen roosts, and that Lexington jail is full of these victims of this Ku-klux. Gov. Holden should send up his militia and release these oppressed friends of his, and arrest the author of these high-handed measures.—Ib.

The case of the State against W. F. Henderson, charged with mule stealing, was removed from Davidson county to this county, Thursday, the 20th instant, is the day set apart for the trial of this case.

The indictment against Henry Darr, the prosecutor in the above case, for perjury, was dismissed, the State being unable to make out a case.—Ib.

SINGULAR.—A spring on the farm of Abraham Styers, in this county, which has for nearly forty years furnished good wholesome water, has recently become very poisonous, in consequence of a stream of water strongly impregnated with lead breaking into it. All of the members of the family who drank of the water after the lead stream broke into the spring were taken violently ill. The physician called to attend the family, analyzed the water, and drank of it was also made sick.—Ib.

Edward B. Fullings has been appointed by the President Collector for the 6th District, vice S. H. Wiley, removed.—Ib.

THE FAIR GROUNDS.—We learn from Mr. Henry Nutt, that a portion of our merchants have subscribed very generously towards the completion of the Grounds, intended to be used by the Cape Fear Agricultural Association for the holding of annual fairs. We further learn from the same gentleman that the ground will be surveyed and laid off during next week.—Wil. Star.

ESCAPE FROM JAIL.—Monday night, Paris Davis, (colored,) confined for highway robbery, made his escape from the county jail where he has been imprisoned for several months past. His escape was effected by eluding the vigilance of the jailor.—Wil. Journal.

Mr. Frank Wheeler, of this place, has received the appointment for 5th Congressional District, vice Jesse Wheeler, resigned. Greensboro Topic.

Velocipedes and velocipedists are numerous on our streets this morning; and the occasional peals of laughter which come from the admiring crowd.—Ib.

The Statesville American learns that some of the Iredell people who have been prospecting in Missouri and Kansas, recently, have returned, not very favorably impressed with the climate and other surroundings in the Northwest; others, who are there will return as soon as they can obtain the wherewithal to pay their way back.

The Engineer to survey the line of the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio Railroad, from Statesville in the direction of Tennessee, via Taylorsville and Lenoir, have arrived at this place, says the Statesville American, and will commence the survey without delay.

NEWSPAPER BORROWERS.—There are men who read nearly every paper we print at the expense of other people. They are able to take the paper and pay for it, but they are too penurious, and prefer to read it at another man's expense, which is about as creditable as to "borrow" a piece of bread every time they get hungry. We have only to say to all such, if you wish to read this paper subscribe for it like a white man and pay for it like a gentleman.—Milton Chron.

The tobacco barn of Mr. James Hunt, of this county, was broken into a few nights ago and relieved of 1400 pounds leaf tobacco.—Ib.

THE COTTON CROP.—Mournful accounts reach us from the country in regard to the great damage done to the Cotton crop by the late cold weather. A large proportion of the Cotton already up has been killed, and it is seriously feared that the seed in the ground has been so injured as to be utterly worthless.—Tar. Southerner.

Rev. Dr. Smith, of Union Theological Seminary, Va., will deliver the literary address before Edgeworth Female Seminary at Greensboro'.

The Milton Chronicle says that three harlots near that place recently married negroes.

Edgecombe has fourteen lawyers.

Granville has some or twenty three lawyers.

Dr. Blacknall will open his Hotel at Kittrell for the benefit of boarders who desire to use the water of the Springs. The Doctor is an excellent caterer.

RALEIGH, May 6th, 1869.

TO THE PRESIDENTS OF BANKING COMPANIES IN THE STATE, AND OF RAILROAD, CANAL, TURNPIKE, PLANK ROAD AND NAVIGATION COMPANIES WHOSE WORKS LIE IN WHOLE OR IN PART WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THIS STATE:

Your attention is called to the following provisions of the "Act to provide for the collection of taxes by the State and the several Counties of the State on property, polls and income," ratified March 13th, 1869 to-wit:

SEC 13. * * "The value of the franchise of every Railroad, Canal, Turnpike, Plank Road, Navigation and Banking Company shall be given by the President or chief officer of the said several Corporations, on the day fixed by this act for the giving in of taxable property, to the Treasurer of the State, and shall be assessed and valued by the said Treasurer, the Auditor and the Governor of the State, and their valuation shall be returned to the County Commissioners of any County in which any part of said Roads or Canals or Navigation Works shall be, and the tax upon such franchise so valued shall be the same as upon property of equal value, and the tax collected in each County and Township shall be in proportion to the length of such Road, Canal or Works lying in such County or Township respectively; and such taxes shall be collected as other taxes are by law required to be. The rolling stock of every Railroad Company, and the vessels employed by any Canal or Navigation Company on its canal or works shall be valued with the franchise."

You will please forward to me on or before the 20th of May, 1869, a statement, on oath, showing:

1st. The length of your Railroad, including sidings and turnouts, stating the number of miles in each County.

2d. The quantity and estimated value of Real Estate belonging to the Company.

3d. The width of the land belonging to the Company for the right of way.

All of the above is put in the drawing at the regular cash selling prices and will be disposed of by a regular mode of Drawing, and in order to accomplish this, the Company will sell 73,947 tickets at $2 each; for further information read section 10 and 11 of the By-Laws of the Company:

BY-LAWS.

SEC. 10. The plan of drawing shall be as follows; there shall be two wheels, one a prize wheel and one a number wheel, arranged in some public place in the city, where any one holding a ticket may be present on the day of drawing.—In the number wheel there shall be as many tickets corresponding in number as those which have been sold. In the prize wheel there shall be as many tickets as there are prizes, these tickets shall be deposited in the wheels by a board of supervisors, who shall be appointed by the Directors, after which the wheel shall be sealed up and placed in any bank in the city, the Directors may direct, until the time of drawing, when the supervisors shall bring the wheels to the drawing, break the seals and the drawing shall be disposed of by taking a ticket from each wheel, at the same time and the prize ticket taken from the prize wheel shall designate the prize drawn by the ticket corresponding in number to the one taken from the number wheel at the same time. The wheel shall be well shaken after each ticket is drawn.

SEC. 11. The Directors shall designate the time and place of drawing, at which time and place the supervisors shall be required to be present and see that the drawing is conducted entirely equitable.

A Board of Supervisors, will be appointed who will have exclusive control and management of the drawing. They will conduct the distribution and see that each person is legally invested with the property he may draw. A duplicate registry of the tickets sold will be kept; so that, in the event of loss of ticket, the accident may be rendered and no mistake can occur.

The Drawing will take place in TUCKER HALL in the City of Raleigh, immediately after sale of tickets,—of which due notice will be given.

The Company is working under the provisions of a special Charter granted by the General Assembly of North Carolina, which compels the Company to comply faithfully with all contracts.

Copies can be had on application to the Company.

All the above mentioned property will certainly be disposed of as above stated, and those drawing it will be invested with the title in fee simple.

☞ No member of the Company is allowed to purchase any tickets.

All moneys sent by mail, at the owner's risk; that sent by Express, Registered Letters, Checks or Drafts, at the risk of the Company.

No property will be listed unless the title is undisputable.

The Treasurer has been required to give a bond of five thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. He is required to deposit, daily, in the bank, all monies received, where it will remain until all the tickets are sold and all the property will be positively drawn and delivered to the parties drawing, or the money returned. Send two dollars by express, postoffice order, registered letter, or draft, at our risk, or by mail at your own, and take a chance at the 3,000 valuable prizes offered.

Tickets will be sent any where in the United States at the Company's risk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Publication of the Treasurer of the State, concerning Rail roads, &c.

Candles, Leather, Soap, Nails, Weeding Hoes, &c., at Upchurch Dood's.

Flour, Beef tongues, &c., at W. C. Stronach & Co's

Hay, Irish Potatoes, Heavy and Fancy groceies, at W. C. Stronach & Co's.

THEFT.—Some rogues entered the cellar of Mr. S. J. Freeman, on Hargett Street, within twenty steps of Fayetteville Street, and carried off 300 pounds of rags. They must have had a wagon to have carried off their plunder! Where were the fifteen policemen?

ENDLESS MATCH.—Messrs. Bradley and Christophers have presented us with a very ingenious match. One can be ignited fifty times in wind or rain, is not affected by dampness, and is not larger than an ordinary broom straw. These gentlemen are the only persons who have them for sale.

OUR OFFICE to-day was greatly exercised over the sudden arrival of one of Blair's servants with a waiter of the most delightful strawberries, ice-cream, cream and cake. All hands partook and thanked the kind donor for the exquisite treat. We now understand why so many travellers go to the Yarborough House. We cannot but commend their taste.

SOUTHERN PLANTER AND FARMER for May, has been received, filled with its usual variety of interesting matter. Terms $2 a year, Richmond, Va.

"BRIEF Reasons for Repudiation: applicable to the War Debts of all countries. By Isaac Butts, late editor of Rochester Daily Union and Advertiser." Such is the title of a pamphlet of a hundred pages sent us. We have not read it.

WE regret to learn that the cotton crop in Franklin county (one of our best) is materially injured.

A SENSIBLE FELLOW.—A correspondent this morning writes to us: "I don't know that I could be a gentleman without the Sentinel to read. I might apostatize, and take a dark lantern some night, and in all probability never be heard from again."

"SKETCHES OF THE UNIVERSITY."—These admirably written articles are attracting deserved attention. They are from the pen of one of the most accomplished individuals in our State. No. 7 will appear to-morrow. We clip the following from the N. C. Presbyterian:

"A writer, well fitted for the task undertaken, is furnishing to the Raleigh Sentinel a series of "Pen and Ink Sketches of the University of North Carolina, as it has been." These sketches are interesting to all true North Carolinians, and especially so to those who have been in any way connected with the University, or with the noble men who, in those past days, composed its faculty. We propose to copy largely of these articles, if we do not reproduce them in full in our columns."

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY:

Exercises Attending the Laying of the Last Rail at Promontory, Utah,—Presentation of a Silver Spike—The Last Tie—Speeches and Dispatches.

PROMONTORY, Utah, Tuesday, May 11.—In presenting the silver spike to Dr. Durant yesterday, in performance of his part in the exercises attending the laying of the last rail of the great Pacific Road, Hon. T. A. Tuttle, of Nevada, offered the following sentiment:

To the iron of the East and the gold of the West, Nevada adds her link of silver to span the Continent and wed the oceans.

Hon. A. K. Safford, Governor of Arizona, offered a spike of iron, silver and gold, as an offering from Arizona, with the following sentiment:

Ribbed with iron, clad in silver, and crowned with gold, Arizona presents her offering to the enterprise that has banded the Continent and dedicated the pathway to commerce.

SPEECH OF GEN. DODGE.

Gen. G. M. Dodge, Chief Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, is responding for California, Nevada, and Arizona, said:

The great Benton prophesied that some day a granite statue would be erected on the highest peak of the Rocky Mountains pointing westward, denoting the great route across the continent. You have made the prophecy to day a fact.

THE LAST TIE.

The Superintendents of Construction, S. B. Reed, of the Union Pacific Railroad, and S. W. Strawbridge, of the Central Pacific, placed the last tie beneath the rails. The tie was of California laurel, French polished, and on the centre a silver plate, bearing the following inscription: "The last tie laid on the completion of the Pacific Railroad, May 10, 1869," with the names of the directors and officers of the Central Pacific Company. The Union Express Company presented a silver hammer for the purpose of driving the spikes.

THE LAST WORK.

All being prepared, Governor Stanford stood on the south rail, Dr. Durant on the north rail, and, on the signal of "O K" from the telegraph officers, both gentlemen struck the spikes, and the work was done. The vast multitude cheered lustily, and Dr. Durant and Governor Stanford cordially greeted each other and shook hands. The Doctor proposed three cheers for the Central Pacific Company, which was followed by the Governor's proposing three cheers for the Union Pacific Company. The utmost cordiality reigned, Durant exclaiming, "there is henceforth but one Pacific Railroad [cheers] of the United States." Cheers followed for the engineers, contractors and the laborers who have done the work.

DISPATCH TO PRESIDENT GRANT.

The order of exercises was read by Edgar Mills, banker, of Sacramento; also the following message:

PROMONTORY SUMMIT, May 10, '69—12.

To His Excellency General U. S. Grant, President of the United States, D. C:

SIR: We have the honor to report that the last rail is laid, the last spike is driven, the Pacific Railroad is finished.

LELAND STANFORD,
President Central Pacific R. R. Co.
DR. DURANT,
Vice President Union Pacific R. R. Co.

ADDRESS DELIVERED BEFORE THE MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION OF RALEIGH, ON THE OCCASION OF THE ANNIVERSARY, MONDAY, THE 10TH OF MAY.

BY MAJ. W. M. ROBBINS.

(Concluded.)

The Confederate soldiers won a place even in the respect of their enemies. There is no man with an American heart who does not feel that their high courage, their knightly courtesy, and their sublime patience, have shed fresh lustre on the Anglo-American name.

Look at that grand exemplar of our living heroes—the peerless Lee. He who saw his native Virginia devastated by the enemy with fire and sword, and the precious relics and treasure of his own home at Arlington carried away by plunderers; and yet, disdaining revenge, when he tread his columns into the enemy's country, forbade them to touch the private property of citizens without compensation. He, who unselfishly and magnanimously said to his staggering soldiers, when they recoiled from the dreadful heights of Gettysburg, "you are not to blame,—it is all my fault." He, whom a hundred splendid victories, and the world's applause, never made vain, and whose equanimity remains unmoved by the shocks of defeat and misfortune; who, having astonished mankind by the brilliancy of his military genius, and shown himself a very thunderbolt of war, is now affording to his countrymen, as a private citizen, a noble example of devotion to duty and obedience to the laws! Is not this man great! Ought not such a character to be reverenced.

And if we turn to contemplate that grandest of our fallen champions—the great and good Jackson,—who shall find language to portray the purity and nobility of his nature, or the glory of his singular and wonderful career! Six years ago this day the christian hero "crossed over the river" of Death and "rested under the shade of the trees" of Paradise! What a meek man of prayer, and yet what a fiery and terrible warrior!

When thinking on his character and his fate and the fate of the cause for which he so nobly fought, how is the heart oppressed by the unfathomable mystery which enshrouds humanity! Is it possible that the cause, for which such a man battled is lost? Going forth, as he did, from daily communings with the Deity, inspired with fresh courage and redoubled vigor, drawn from those sacred audiencies with the Allwise,—must we, after all, believe that those sublime energies were misdirected and those god like efforts wasted? No! no! our hearts cannot tolerate such a belief.—Though we grope in thick darkness under this great mystery, may we not believe, and find consolation in the thought, that the Omniscient Ruler of the world approves sometimes the honest struggles of His children along the path which seems to them the path of duty, though it may end in defeat or death? Who shall say that great souls and pure hearts have not a divine mission to accomplish sometimes in noble efforts for a lost cause? Who can tell whether the Record Book of the Eternal may not disclose that the working out of the inscrutable and many-sided purposes of God in this world, was aided more by the seemingly futile exertion of defeated heroes, than by the achievements of the victorious?

One thing at least is sure. No cause can be despised which numbers among its champions such a hero as Jackson; and when men shall ask, not concerning of the cause, and of the sins of its defenders, we can point to his brilliant and saintly name as our triumphant vindication. The pilgrim who, in future times, shall stand by that grave at Lexington, and muse upon the grand career of the hero who sleeps there, will perhaps doubt if the cause for which he fought was wrong and wicked in the eyes of God.

The Confederate soldiers were not only successful in conquering for themselves a place in History, and in the respect of their enemies. They have done more than that; they have enshrined themselves forever in the hearts of their countrywomen of the South,—the fairest, the noblest, the loveliest race of women who ever made the world bright with their presence. It is enough, Ladies, that these heroes have won a name on the scroll of renown along side of yours. For, whatever glory was shed upon the land of our pride—the sunny South—in the late contest, by the lionlike valor of her sons, it cannot outshine the halo which was thrown around her by the heroic devotion of her daughters. Such heroes only could be worthy of such countrywomen.

It is fitting that you tend their graves; for it was your patriotic enthusiasm which inspired them to rush to the field, and taught them to despise danger. 'Twas your smiles that bared their bosoms to the glittering steel; and the hope of your approval made them charge so gallantly up to the cannon's fiery lips which spoke only of blood and death. Thoughts of the noble spirit which you were exhibiting at home and in the hospitals of the sick and wounded, fortified the soldier's courage and invigorated his resolutions; and it was such thoughts which made them stand like a living wall between you and the enemy, while upon that wall, for four long terrible years, the waves of carnage dashed.

No eulogy of those noble soldiers is complete which does not accord the highest praise to the fair ones whom they defended. History and song shall link their names together, and together they will go down to the latest ages, eclipsing all Roman and all Spartan fame.

But, Ladies, if you were sublime in those terrible days of conflict and danger, a tenderer beauty lingers around you now in this time of humiliation. You were noble when you buckled on the sword of husband, brother and lover, and bade them hasten to the field, freely sacrificing your dearest treasures and forgetting all but your country's danger. You were nobler still when you gathered around the prostrate forms of your heroes in the hospitals, pouring the healing balm into their wounds, and if you could not charm death away, smoothing their pathway to the tomb by pointing to the home beyond, and teaching them to find it. But you are noblest of all now, when stricken and bending low under the burden of grief and humiliation, but still faithful and unforgetting, you gather the ashes of your sleeping champions and lay them quietly down to rest in the beautiful cities of the dead which your hands have decorated.

In the time of strife, your zeal was mingled with proud anticipations of honor and final triumph; now it can only spring from the perennial fountains of your affectionate gratitude. Like all crushed and stricken lands, our Sunny South, robbed of its material power and splendor, will, perhaps, now become the favorite dwelling-place of Art and Genius Elequence, and Song. A land of moral greatness and sublime thoughts: transcending in loveliness all rich and fortunate lands, even as the crushed flowers you have brought here to-day emit a sweeter fragrance than those still growing on their stems. And when our Southern bards hereafter tune their harps and enchant the world with their sweet lays, how can they strike a tenderer strain than when they sing the daughters of the South weeping at the graves of our dead heroes, as the maidens of Isreal annually wept for Jephtha's child on the mountains of Gilead?

Dulce est pro patria mori. But how much sweeter when fair woman stands approving by, with smiles and plaudits for the brave, and tears and flowers for the graves of the fallen! A great government has gathered up its dead, also, and laid them in costly mausoleums, tended by hired officials. But no monumental pile, reared by official edict, and paid for with public treasure, marks the resting place of our poor boys. But you have devised for them a higher honor, and proudly they repose in the tasteful cemeteries which have been prepared by those who loved them, with your hands to scatter roses on their quiet beds, and your hearts for their monument. Their hovering spirits look down with approbation upon your annual free-will offering of flowers, better far than any gorgeous funeral pageant bought with gold. Sweetly they now repose, after life's fitful fever and deadly strife. Soldiers, not of Empire but of Liberty, they heed not now the reproaches which the sycophants of power may cast upon their names. You will cherish the memory of the virtues; and the "dull cold ear of death" will never hear the slanders of those who revile them.

"Lightly they'll talk of the spirits who've gone,
And o'er their cold ashes upbraid them,—
But nothing they'll seek if allowed to sleep on
In the graves where their sisters have laid them."

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Among the anniversary meetings in New York yesterday were the following: Equal Rights Association, at which Southern delegates were admitted; American Tract Society, Bishop McIlvaine, presiding. The report shows an issue last year of 326 new books and tracts in various languages; 807,000 volumes were printed and 9,493,400 publications. Total in 41 years, 23,684,379 volumes and 305,392,287 publications.

The steamer Cuba, from New Orleans via Havana, touched at Fortress Monroe yesterday with the Seventeenth infantry, en route to Richmond for consolidation. She had on board over one hundred Cuban refugees.

Senator Nye presided over a meeting of Californians at the Astor House, New York last night, to celebrate the Pacific railroad completion.

The Connecticut House of Representatives will vote on the fifteenth amendment to-day. The democrats spoke against the amendment yesterday; no republicans have yet spoken.

The National Temperance Society held its yearly meeting in New York yesterday. Over $46,000 were received and expended during the year. W. E. Dodge, was re-elected president.

The dwelling of the Hon C. C. Langdon, near Mobile, Alabama, was destroyed by fire on Saturday last. A valuable library was also consumed. Loss $5,000. No insurance.

Reports from the northwest are to the effect that the new wheat crop is in excellent condition and promises an abundant harvest.

The eighty fifth convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Pennsylvania, Bishop Stevens, was held in Philadelphia yesterday.

A SHOWER OF WORMS.—The Portland (Oregon) Courier says that during a brisk shower at Sheridan, in Yamhill county, on the 18 h of March, there fell what seemed to be a kind of hail, but on examination was found to be composed of peculiar whitish worms—millions of them. Each worm had the power of doubling up and skipping a foot or more. They were from an eighth to a quarter of an inch long, with a small darkish spot about the head. They appeared to die very soon.

The President said he would consider their suggestions.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, May 13.—In the U. S. Circuit Court to-day, in proceedings against the U. S. Marshal of this District in 1861 for funds turned over to the Confederate government the defendant plead the U. S. statute of limitation, and the plea was admitted by Ch of Justice Chase presiding, the United States being non-suited. This is an important decision, the plea put forward being the same that will be put in by all postmasters in the Southern States at the breaking out of the war, who made the same disposition of funds.

FROM GEORGIA

AUGUSTA, May 13.—The shooting of Atkins is deplored by many leading peperseed citizens, as it is feared it will be handled as a pretext to deal harshly with Georgia. No new developments as to the cause of shooting.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—At ten o'clock to-day the wires cease to Pittsburg worked without batteries. Electrical disturbance interrupted the wires in other directions.

FROM HARRISBURG.

HARRISBURG, May 13.—The Court of Common Pleas has decided a question involving the liability of Railroad bonds held by citizens of other States. Judge Pearson decides that as it was properly protected by Pennsylvania it could be made to pay its share of taxation.

FROM ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, May 13.—The morning papers contain a call signed by many of the most prominent business men and planters of this city and county for a convention on the 1st day of June, to organize an immigration company. Col. Lee C. Randall, of New Orleans, has been canvassing the State in favor of the plan, and it is meeting with great success. The Railroads and Hotels have agreed to take half fare from all persons attending the Convention.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,000,00.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

A large assortment come along, bring your Greenbacks, Creech's is the place to buy your Shoes.

Bonnets, Spring styles, come small enough and some large enough. For Ladies, Misses and Children trimmed and untrimmed Hats. A beautiful assortment, come lay away your old hat, and always come to Creech's before you buy a new one &c., &c.

Keep it before the people, that I told the people six months ago, that I intended to run through my campaign, with my motto to give each and every individual value received, for their valuable support, giving the Ladies a fine opportunity to exercise their fashionable rights, as well as the gentlemen, and since that time thousands have shown their good judgment by coming and demonstrating the truth of my assertion. I tell you Creech's is the place. And permit me to return my sincere thanks for your very liberal and valuable patronage for the last twenty five years. I hope by strict attention to business and honest dealing, giving each and every one the worth of their money that I will continue to receive a liberal share of your patronage. The rest of my talking I shall do at my place of business which is Creech's corner Fayetteville Street Raleigh

A DAY OF SUNSHINE.

BY LONGFELLOW.

O gift of God! O perfect day!
Whereon no man shall work, but play;
Whereon it is enough for me
Not to be doing, but to be!

Through every fibre of my brain,
Through every nerve, through every vein,
I feel the electric thrill, the touch
Of life, that seems almost too much.

I hear the wind among the trees
Playing celestial symphonies;
I see the branches downward bent,
Like keys of some great instrument.

And over me unrolls on high
That splendid scenery of the sky,
Where through a sapphire sea the sun
Sails like a golden galleon.

Toward yonder cloud-land in the west,
Toward yonder islands of the blest,
Whose sleep-encircling arms extend
The misty mountains white with drifts.

Blow, winds! and waft through all the rooms
The snow-flakes of the cherry-blooms!
Blow, winds! and bend within my reach
The fiery blossoms of the peach!

O life and love! O happy throng
Of thoughts, whose only speech is song!
O heart of man! canst thou not be
Blithe as the air is, and as free?

A FIRST LOVE.

Don Piatt tells a tale of the venerable Laertes worthy of primeval times. That worthy old gentleman evidently retains the fresh feelings of youth, and has a bosom gushing with the milk of human kindness. We should like to take a fish with him. It appears that the old gentleman had a first love—was crossed, of course, but still retained a fond remembrance of the idolized angel. He heard not long since she was still living, far away in Ohio, a widow with a large family and in straightened circumstances. He determined to drop in on her, and see for himself if he could by chance contribute to her welfare. He did so—revived fond memories, and jestingly reminded her that if she had not jilted him she would now be the mother of the President—to which she pleasantly assented. He found among her children a young widow—the very picture of the old flame, when all things were tinged with the purple light of love—and he determined within himself that she should be Postmistress of the town. He ascertained that Garfield was Congressman of the district—a "Rosecrans fellar"—with whom nothing could be done—so he hied to Washington, and there had the nomination sent to the Senate.

In the meantime, the people of the town, knowing nothing of Laertes' doings, had sent to Garfield the name of another for the place. When Garfield heard he had been anticipated, he hurried to the White House and remonstrated with the President that the woman he had nominated was wholly unfit, as she could neither read nor write, and wished to know on whose recommendation he had made the nomination.—"On my father's who knows the family well." But the President did not wish to appoint an incompetent person, and authorized Garfield to delay the confirmation.—Old Laertes heard what "the Rosecrans feller" was doing, and he forthwith set to work to counteract him. He got up an arrangement with the old postmaster to do the duties of the office and give the bulk of the profits to the widowed daughter of his first love. And she was confirmed.

D. P's. comment is appropriate:

should anything be more tender, touching and beautiful than this? The venerable Jesse is an oasis in a desert. He is the greatest thing to be found in the dry waste of politics. Let us be thankful, however, that he was not a Don Juan, and had few loves.—Rich. Whig.

Wheedon's Excelsior Labor-Saving
WASHING COMPOUND.
Patented Sept. 22, 1868.

REASONS FOR PREFERRING THIS SOAP.

The Patentee claims for this Soap the following advantages which are clearly set forth in the Letters Patent, to-wit:

First, it can be manufactured at less than half the cost of any soap ever produced.

Secondly, it may be used successfully in any kind of water—cold or hot, hard or soft.

Thirdly, it so modifies the action of boiling water on woollen goods that their fibres do not contract under its influence, and your woollen garment is as large after boiling as before.

Fourth, it does not decompose the colors of goods, and your prints and stripes are as brilliant after washing as before.

Fifth the goods do not require any rubbing or patent washing machine—all that is necessary is a few minutes boiling and a good rinsing.

LIFE INSURANCE.

NATIONAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,
$1,000,000,
PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so muddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he looks into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

NATIONAL

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,582 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,005,550.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.03

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 602
By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 693
" New England Mutual, 343
" Phœnix Mutual, 335
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.
In its 10th year, 1,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,841 "
this latter being 690 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

FIRST CLASS NEWSPAPER.

Feb 11-tf J. A. JONES, Raleigh, N. C.

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

P. LORILLARD, New York.

RAILROADS.

TO SHIPPERS.
NORTH CAROLINA
ALL STATE
RAILWAY LINES, (THAT USED TO BE!)
THE OLD RALEIGH & GASTON RAIL ROAD THE SHORTEST, QUICKEST, SAFEST AND BEST LINE, NORTH AND SOUTH, TO BE LEFT OUT IN THE COLD, UNLESS SHIPPERS SPECIALLY SAY VIA. R. & G. R. R!

WE inaugurated and are the Great through Inland Air Line Route to all the Northern Markets, and have successfully worked the Line to the entire satisfaction of Shippers, North and South, for the last ten years, as the few Thousand shippers in North and South Carolina will testify. We paid the state near Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for her Interest in this Road—thereby saving the people from Taxation for all time to come $80,000 per year; and we unhesitatingly declare that we can and will give more dispatch to all points, North and South, than any other Line.

NOTICE!
The Great Inland Air Line Freight
ROUTE,
Via THE RALEIGH & GASTON RAIL ROAD,
is the Short Line for Shippers, and you are required so to direct your Freights, or they will be taken by another route!

To insure your Freight being carried over this Great Inland Air Line safely, direct your consignees to mark your Freight, Care of Rail Road Agent, Portsmouth, Va., or City Point, Va., via Raleigh & Gaston Rail Road, and to ship as follows:

FROM BOSTON:
Merchants' & Miners' Line, end of Central Wharf, E. Sampson, Agent.
FROM NEW YORK:
Old Dominion Steamship Co., Shipping Point, Pier 37 North River, Foot Beach St., Office 187, Greenwich St. Cor. Day; N. L. McCready, President.
FROM PHILADELPHIA:

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES
WITHOUT LABOR.
THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any stove or Range, in any boiler, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be restored in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & LIGHTER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the State

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.
OF
1,100 ACRES OF VALUABLE LAND
IN WARREN COUNTY.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE SUpreme Court, I shall offer for sale, at the Court House door, in the town of Warrenton, ON SATURDAY THE 1st. DAY OF MAY 1869, 1100 Acres of Land, belonging to the estate of Lewis Y. Christmas, deceased. Said land is situated, partly on Fishing Creek, in Warren County, about 9½ miles South-west of Warrenton, and 4 miles from Ridgway on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad. This land has a fair proportion of wood and cleared land, and produces wheat, tobacco, cotton, corn, &c., and being situated within easy reach of different markets is deemed one of the most valuable farms in Warren County. To suit purchasers, it may be sold in two or three separate parcels.

TERMS: For one fourth of the purchase money cash will be required on the day of sale—and one half of the residue payable on the 1st day of January 1870, and the other half on the 1st. day of January 1871, secured by bonds with two good securities.
